601: Collection Development Policy

Proposal: The Collection Development Policy serves as an overall guide to our staff on what we select, what we keep, and what we discard based on the library's mission, values, strategic goals, and our patron's needs. It provides general guidance on the values and principles of collection development at ICPL, establishing the criteria on how we manage the collection. It is a valuable tool in explaining collection decisions to members of our community.

This review is a regular, three-year policy review. We revised the policy earlier this calendar year (April 2022) to add specific language about content aggregators with the intention of completing a full review this month. The review committee consisted of our selection staff of six librarians, our purchaser, and the Collection Services Coordinator. It was vetted by the library's coordinator team and the City Attorney's Office.

The Collection Development Policy is one of the four policies required by the Public Library Accreditation Standards overseen by the State Library of Iowa. It should cover the intention of the collection, who is responsible for collection development, criteria for selecting resources, and how reconsideration of materials or complaints are handled. The American Library Association (ALA)'s Intellectual Freedom Manual recommends that the policy is consistent with and refers to the Library Bill of Rights, the Freedom to Read, and the Freedom to View statements.

Issues: After reviewing State Library standards, American Library Association recommendations, and peer library policies, we recommend making minor changes to our current policy. Our changes address:

- what resources are used in consideration of purchasing and cataloging items for the collection
- how we determine what formats are made available
- recent changes to language in the Finance Policy (401)

Committee Recommendations:

| 601 | Refer to Finance Policy (401) in related policies section. Policy language from the Finance Policy provides background on the Collection Maintenance (601.4) section in this policy. |
| 601.21 | Add "support the Library's mission" to the goals for the collection under guidelines. The library's collection is a significant vehicle in how the library meets its mission in the community. Referring to the library's mission is considered a best practice. Minor changes were added to the sentence for clarity. |
| 601.27 | Add information on what criteria is used to decide what formats are retained and removed from the collection. |

|--------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 601.31 | Add information on what resources staff use to consider the categorization and cataloging of items in the collection. The majority of questions we receive from patrons about the collection tend to be about cataloging. For example, why is this item considered “young adult” or why is this book in the children’s room? Clarifying how those decisions are made in this policy is beneficial to provide context to the community and the staff at large. |
| 601.41 | Language changed to remove the second use of the word “need.” |
| 601.43 | The language regarding how withdrawn materials are handled was updated to reflect recent changes to the Finance Policy (401) |

Action Required: Review policy and adopt as amended.

Committee Members: Adult Services: Victoria Fernandez, Candice Smith, and Brian Visser; Children’s Services: Casey Maynard and Anne Wilmoth; Collection Services: Melody Dworak, Anne Mangano, Romona Murrell

601 Collection Development Policy

See related policies: Finance Policy \(401\), Circulation and Library Card Policy (801), Confidentiality and Privacy (802), and Internet Use (815)

601.1 Introduction

601.11 The Iowa City Public Library is committed to providing the best collection to support the community's information and leisure needs. The purpose of this policy is to guide librarians selecting materials and to inform the public about the principles guiding collection development decisions.

601.12 Collection development is the ongoing process of assessing materials available for purchase or licensing, and making decisions on their inclusion and on their retention. It also includes creation of and access to original content.

601.13 Under the direction of the Collection Services Coordinator, responsibility for collection development lies with librarians who apply professional knowledge, experience, and this policy in making decisions as well as the catalogers who determine where an item is placed within the collection. Selectors maintain a collection plan for developing and maintaining the Library's collection. Ultimate responsibility for collection development lies with the Director.

601.2 Guidelines

601.21 Materials selected for the collection will support the Library's mission and meet the current and long-term needs of Iowa City residents. Our collection supports ~~of~~ all ages and abilities for information, education, culture, and recreation. The Library strives to offer the widest possible range of subjects and views in a variety of formats, treatments, and levels of difficulty. Other considerations include cost, space limitations, availability from approved vendors, current holdings, and demand.

601.22 Generally, collections are broad, current and popular, not archival or comprehensive.

601.23 Collection development will support priorities of the Library's strategic plan.

601.24 The Library subscribes to the principles embodied in the Library Bill of Rights and its interpretations, Freedom to Read, and Freedom to View statements adopted by the American Library Association.

601.25 Including materials in the collection does not constitute endorsement of their contents. The Library recognizes that any given item may offend some patrons, but, because the Library follows accepted principles of intellectual freedom, it will not remove specific titles solely because individuals or groups may find them objectionable.

601.26 Digital materials may be provided through a content aggregator. The inclusion or exclusion of specific titles in these collections are made by the vendor and may not conform with the Library's collection development guidelines.

601.27 The Library regularly evaluates what formats are offered in the collection. Patron use and demand, market availability, staff availability, and financial sustainability are considered when adding or removing formats from the collection.

601.278 The Library welcomes suggestions and comments from the public. User suggestions for purchase will be evaluated in accordance with this policy and the collection development plans.

601.289 The Library takes the privacy policies of vendors into consideration when purchasing and licensing digital content.

601.3 Access to Materials

601.31 Library materials are categorized and labeled for the convenience of browsing and the ease of locating items. Collection Services staff consider information from publishers, reviews, library material vendors, and current holdings as they select, categorize, and label materials.

601.32 Materials are not isolated from the public except for the purpose of protecting them from damage or theft. Some in-house collections are purchased for the purpose of staff professional development or programming support.

601.323 Access to Library materials will not be restricted based on age except in the case of select circulating equipment, which may require parent/guardian permission for checkout to patrons under the age of 18 due to high replacement costs. Access to specific collections may be restricted for the Student AIM cards based on the Memorandum of Agreement with the participating school districts and public libraries.

601.334 Specialized resources available in other local libraries will not be needlessly duplicated. The library adds curricular materials only when these also serve the general public, or meet specific needs for contracted services.

601.345 The Library participates in programs designed to provide patrons access to materials not owned, such as interlibrary loan, reciprocal borrowing agreements, and access to Internet resources.

601.356 Small outreach collections may be placed in agencies and institutions serving populations with limited Library access.

601.367 Materials selected for the collection may be physically owned by the Iowa City Public Library or may be accessed through the Library's or a vendor's web site. If mutually beneficial, the Library may partner with other libraries to offer joint access to digital collections.

601.3~~7~~8 Remote electronic access to digital resources may be limited by licensing constraints.

601.4 Collection Maintenance

601.41 To ensure that the Library's collection is up-to-date and relevant to the community's needs, ~~the need for~~ materials previously added to the collection ~~is~~are reevaluated on a regular basis.

601.42 Materials will be withdrawn if they are out-of-date, worn, damaged, duplicated, or no longer being used. Space, the cost of replacement, and the appearance of the collection are also factors. Locally significant materials may be retained.

601.43 Withdrawn materials may be placed in outreach collections, sold to book vendors, offered to other libraries, offered to the Friends Foundation for public sale, recycled, or discarded. Proceeds will support the Library's mission.

601.5 Gifts

601.51 The Friends Foundation manages all gifts for the collection, both monetary and in kind, for the Iowa City Public Library. Gifts are accepted for the collection with the understanding that the same guidelines of selection and retention are applied to gifts as to any materials acquired by purchase.

601.52 Although gifts are not accepted with stipulations, Library staff will consider the interests of the donors in determining how to use monetary gifts.

Library Bill of Rights

American Library Association:

<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/librarybill>

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.

II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.

IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.

V. A person's right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.

VI. Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

VII. All people, regardless of origin, age, background, or views, possess a right to privacy and confidentiality in their library use. Libraries should advocate for, educate about, and protect people's privacy, safeguarding all library use data, including personally identifiable information.

Adopted June 19, 1939, by the ALA Council; amended October 14, 1944; June 18, 1948; February 2, 1961; June 27, 1967; January 23, 1980; January 29, 2019.

Inclusion of "age" reaffirmed January 23, 1996.

Although the Articles of the Library Bill of Rights are unambiguous statements of basic principles that should govern the service of all libraries, questions do arise concerning application of these principles to specific library practices. See the documents designated by the Intellectual Freedom Committee as Interpretations of the Library Bill of Rights.

The Freedom to Read Statement

American Library Association:

<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/freedomreadstatement>

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.

Freedom to View Statement

American Library Association:

<https://www.ala.org/advocacy/intfreedom/freedomviewstatement>

The FREEDOM TO VIEW, along with the freedom to speak, to hear, and to read, is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. In a free society, there is no place for censorship of any medium of expression. Therefore these principles are affirmed:

1. To provide the broadest access to film, video, and other audiovisual materials because they are a means for the communication of ideas. Liberty of circulation is essential to insure the constitutional guarantee of freedom of expression.
2. To protect the confidentiality of all individuals and institutions using film, video, and other audiovisual materials.
3. To provide film, video, and other audiovisual materials which represent a diversity of views and expression. Selection of a work does not constitute or imply agreement with or approval of the content.
4. To provide a diversity of viewpoints without the constraint of labeling or prejudging film, video, or other audiovisual materials on the basis of the moral, religious, or political beliefs of the producer or filmmaker or on the basis of controversial content.
5. To contest vigorously, by all lawful means, every encroachment upon the public's freedom to view.

This statement was originally drafted by the Freedom to View Committee of the American Film and Video Association (formerly the Educational Film Library Association) and was adopted by the AFVA Board of Directors in February 1979. This statement was updated and approved by the AFVA Board of Directors in 1989.

New Board Packet Format

I am pleased to share our new format for board packets. This project has been in discussion for a few years; there was an interest in unifying the visual presentation of departmental board reports, policy reviews, and other documents we present to the trustees monthly. Graphics Intern Yvonne Jiang created a few options for the Leadership Team, and with input from Jen Miller and other Coordinators, we selected this version to try. I welcome your input and feedback; as a primary audience for this information, we want to make sure it works well for the board. It may take a few packets to fully integrate the new format and work out any issues, and I thank you in advance for your patience as we adapt to a new style.

CIP Update

The submitted CIP form for Board Room and Meeting Room E renovations has been added to the FY24 CIP plan. This project calls for a $55,000 refresh of two primary meeting spaces in the library. The Carpeting and Furnishing Replacement project is currently planned as a FY25 and FY26 project.

Library Board of Trustees Vacancy Update

All necessary information has been submitted to the City Clerk's Office for the Library Board vacancy to be processed and posted. The vacancy details are available on the City's website (<https://www.icgov.org/city-government/boards-commissions-and-committees/board-commission-and-committee-vacancies>) and will also be shared on ICPL social media. Applications for this vacancy are due by 5.00pm on Tuesday, January 3, 2023. The vacancy is for a partial term, from date of appointment through June 30, 2027.

Annual Legislative Reception

At the November Johnson County Public Library Director's Meeting, the annual legislative reception was discussed. The event is scheduled for Monday, December 5, at ICPL, from 5.30pm-6.30pm. Invitations will be sent soon. The theme will be intellectual freedom and children's services, and children's services managers from around the county will be working together on a presentation for the event. Please save the date and watch for a formal invite in the coming days.

Meeting University of Iowa SLIS Director Candidates

Members of the University of Iowa SLIS Advisory Committee were invited to meet SLIS Director candidates during their onsite interviews. It was great to have an opportunity to both observe presentations and interact in a more social way with the candidates, and I appreciate being included in the process. It was a real pleasure to talk about big picture visioning and future casting for Iowa City (and area) libraries and library education with passionate library people.

Legislative Priorities Shared with City Administration

City Department Directors were asked to submit our departmental legislative priorities to City Administration as they prepare to work with the City Council to develop legislative priorities for the coming year. While departmental-level priorities are not typically included in the Council's final priorities document, the submitted content is assessed with a number of other inputs to create big-picture priorities that reflect the needs of the community and the aspirations of Council. Our submission included the following items.

Safeguard Intellectual Freedom and the Freedom to Read as Integral to the Public Library

Intellectual freedom is the right of every individual to both seek and receive information from all points of view without restriction. It is a core value, central to the public library's role and mission in a democratic society. Free and open access to information and materials is granted by the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. The City of Iowa City stands with the Iowa Library Association against any proposed legislation which would inhibit the freedom to read or infringe upon the foundational ethics of the library profession. We support retaining the Iowa Code 728 exemption for public libraries and educational institutions, which is consistent with federal and state law, as well as the professional ethics of librarians and library workers. Public libraries uphold our democratic values by providing access to collections, programming, gathering spaces, and displays while maintaining patron privacy and confidentiality.

Support Fair Digital Content Access and Pricing for Libraries

Library budgets are negatively impacted by unfair eBook and audiobook lending practices set by major publishers. While some publishers do not allow libraries to purchase digital content, others set library pricing as much as six times or more than consumer editions. Many publishers require libraries to repurchase titles on a one to two-year interval, having to repurchase the majority of their collection on a regular basis. It is difficult to impossible for public libraries to provide their communities access to needed materials. Current pricing structures by vendors are not sustainable for long-term public budgeting as it creates new barriers to a library's physical collection and services. Public libraries serve individuals who may not be able to purchase their own books and audiobooks and these pricing practices either eliminate or reduce access for those who face technological or financial challenges. It also stretches library budgets, which are supported by Iowan taxpayers. Iowans deserve equitable access to information, digital or print, as well as prudent stewardship of their library's budget. Iowans and their libraries should have a seat at the table to advocate and represent the communities they serve regarding pricing and digital collection development.

New Tech Training Partnership

Patron tech instruction for adults originates in a few different ways here at ICPL.

- Incoming tech calls answered at Switchboard are usually transferred to the Tech Support phone service point run by Information Technology staff. They do their best to help remotely guide patrons through ICPL web/app-based services such as Hoopla and the Libby app.
- Info Desk staff may receive tech help questions via email or chat, the majority are related to ICPL web/app-based services.
- In-person questions are handled at the point of need, usually via Info Desk staff addressing the problem using a staff computer at the desk or assisting at a patron's personal computer station. These questions are not necessarily limited to ICPL services, we answer a wide variety of topics from how to navigate a website to best practices for digital file storage management.
- Stacey and Emma, our Digital Media Lab Intern, host drop-in help four days a week providing help with digital projects related to the specific Digital Media Lab equipment and software.

<https://uiowa.campuslabs.com/engage/organization/device-advice/gallery/album/190468>

Prior to the pandemic we offered a one-on-one tech help program in the Digital Media Lab three days a week staffed by multiple Library staff and one day with volunteers from Johnson County Livable Community for Successful Aging. When revamping services after returning from Covid closure, we felt the staffing model of this drop-in program was difficult to maintain and began directing interested patrons to ask directly with Info Desk staff. We were still keen to explore a volunteer-led program but the core group of volunteers had moved on to other things. This past summer a coworker shared news of a University of Iowa student group called Device Advice that had been visiting the Senior Center. They have a mission to “[shrink] the digital divide by educating older adults on today's technology while creating meaning connections in the process.” We reached out and in October finalized a plan to have these students offer a two-hour shift every Tuesday through this Semester in the Digital Media Lab coinciding with DML drop-in help times. We'll continue to evaluate these offerings in the new year and are excited to have a new partner to assist patrons with technology.

Voting Support

Ballot Basics: Voting Matters, Kati McVay and Travis Weipert.

This September, ICPL again collaborated with the League of Women Voters Johnson County, Iowa as one of the local host sites for National Voter Registration Day. Volunteers from LWWJC staffed an informational table in the lobby, speaking with dozens of proudly preregistered patrons as well as registering 10 new voters for the upcoming general election. The Education Committee from LWWJC cosponsored an event with us here in October on voting basics and election law changes presented by Travis Weipert, Johnson County Auditor and Kati McVay, Inside Out's Reentry Services Coordinator. The Johnson County Auditor's office again received a petition asking for ICPL to serve as a Satellite Absentee Voting site and we were able to host from Sunday, October 30th through Thursday, November 3rd. Auditor's Office tallies showed a visit of 1,228 total voters, averaging 245 per day with Sunday being the busiest day at 364. This average was higher than our numbers from the June Primary and quite a bit lower than the prior midterm election from 2018.

Sam Helmick, CAS Coordinator

University of Iowa Homecoming

Iowa City Public Library participated in the 2022 University of Iowa Homecoming Parade. A special thank you to Anne W. for participating as Clifford the Big Red Dog and for riding along on the Bookmobile for the parade. Both the children spectating and the West High School Marching Band members ahead of us were very happy to see Clifford.

Thank you to Paul for organizing the Book Cart Drill Team, to Shawna for prepping the Bookmobile for thousands to see, and to each staff member that contributed to and participated in ICPL's annual Homecoming submission. It was a privilege to drive the parade route and listen to unending cheers for the Iowa City Public Library.

Iowa City Farmers Market

The Iowa City Farmers Market season has drawn to a close. The data collected from this year's outreach experience demonstrates the high value in providing services where our Iowa City community naturally gathers. Community members and out-of-town visitors alike contributed to awareness, growth and engagement during the IC Farmers Market outreach. The Bookmobile was often a point of community pride to share with friends and family visiting town and was a delightful surprise to many who had never visited the Bookmobile or Downtown Library before.

Connecting with the Iowa City Farmers Market audience provided time to share library services with unique and returning patrons each Saturday. On Jason's Saturday, he registered five new library cards. On one of Angie's Saturdays, she registered eleven new library cards. Telling the library's story by referring visitors to visit the Downtown Library, place materials on hold at search.icpl.org, visit the Digital Media Lab, or to simply spend a few minutes engaging with library workers was meaningful to both patrons and staff.

ICPL Bookmobile

Development for the Winter/Spring 2023 schedule is well under way. To build the strongest schedule we can, the ICPL Bookmobile Team reviewed Winter/Spring 2022 data to make the most informed decisions in this process.

Statistics for door count and circulation by stop suggest that adding extra service hours and stops with new Friday shifts contributed to growth in visits, holds, circulation, and awareness of ICPL services. Community members did not typically replace their former stop with any of the newer Friday stops. Rather new community members learned about the Bookmobile and use its Friday stops at their convenience.

Heatmapping each stop of that schedule revealed fairly even distribution in use and popularity in all four directions around the Downtown Library. The statistics imply that ICPL Bookmobile stops are evenly utilized in the north, south, east, and west of the Downtown building overall.

The ICPL Bookmobile Team is working to promote collections and readers advisory as much as possible in its capacity as a roving library service point. A special thanks to Tom, Anne M., and Shawna in their work on new approaches in making the ICPL Bookmobile collection as well as its shelf space enticing and relevant to our community.

While it may seem counterintuitive to hold fewer titles aboard, we are observing that the marketing and display approaches that serve us well at the Downtown Library also apply to the ICPL Bookmobile space. Therefore, we are experimenting more without facing titles in Adult Non-Fiction, Adult Fiction, and with a monthly Adult Spotlight of themed materials. We will monitor the impact of each area and continue to tweak efforts as well learn and grow new service and promotional approaches. Patrons are able to notice and pull more materials from these areas and expressing pleasure at these changes.

Continued Education

Several members of the Iowa City Public Library presented at the Iowa Library Association Conference in October.

Anne Mangano and Sam Helmick presented on intellectual freedom, equity, and access in regard to digital pricing and censorship, as well as book bans.

Becky Dannenberg and Terri Byers discussed wayfinding, hospitality services, and volunteer program facilitation/mentorship.

Melody Dworak and Stacey McKim presented on accessibility and literacy services in conjunction with Iowa Library for the Blind and Physically Handicapped

Sam Helmick also became the Iowa Library Association President for the 2022-2023 term. They served as VP in 2021-2022 and will follow their presidency as Ex-Officio and chair of the ILA Government Affairs Committee in 2023-2024.

Respectfully submitted,
Sam

Meeting of the Iowa City Public Library Board of Trustees

Katie Roche, Development Director

Strengthening the ICPL into the future!

On October 31, 2022, I assumed the role of Development Director for the Iowa City Public Library Friends Foundation. I join this team after eleven years as the Development Director of The Englert Theatre and an overlapping 6 years as the Development Director of Strengthen · Grow · Evolve: Building the Greatest Small City for the Arts, the joint capital campaign of The Englert Theatre and FilmScene. I bring to this role strong relationships with donors and businesses within our service area, a state and national reputation for excellence in nonprofit management, a proven track record in grant and proposal writing, and a history of building robust development communication plans that support growth by deepening the understanding the vital role that contributed income makes in operations and future planning.

My first couple of weeks have been heartening and inspiring as I come to understand the extensive expertise that the library team brings to all they do. Our library boasts world class programs, services, collections, and facilities and it is my intention to become a vocal advocate for library usership and support. I am excited to help amplify all that the library has to offer in service to inspiring generous support from our immediate community and beyond.

Once a number of ICPLFF resolutions are signed I will have full access to ICPLFF QuickBooks, bank accounts, and investments. At that time, I'll be in a position to provide more detailed reporting and financial narratives to the ICPL Board of Trustees, working closely with Elsworth to make sure that you have the information you need to guide the ICPL into the future.

Any transition in leadership is an opportunity to evaluate best practices and undergo extensive planning. In the coming months I intend to engage in a series of important activities:

- Development of communications plan
- Evaluation of Foundation website architecture, recommending changes designed for donor acquisition/retention
- Establish updated table of needs
- Publication of a new Case Statement

I look forward to working with all of you!

Katie

Section G - Programs and Content Recordings

Intro and Children 0-5

LIBRARY PROGRAMS

Live Program Sessions

A live program session is any planned event which introduces the group attending to library services or which provides information to participants.

Program sessions may cover use of the library, library services, or library tours. Program sessions may also provide cultural, recreational, or educational information. Examples of these types of program sessions include, but are not limited to, film showings, lectures, story hours, literacy programs, citizenship classes, and book discussions.

INCLUDE

- All program sessions that are sponsored or co-sponsored by the library. For a program session to be sponsored or co-sponsored by the library, the library must contribute financial resources or staff time toward the program session. For a program session that is part of a larger community event (such as a farmer's market or festival), it is not necessary for the library to also sponsor or organize the larger event.
- Both on-site and off-site program sessions. For example, include a storytime at a farmer's market or a presentation to a school group about library resources conducted at a school.
- Live-streamed virtual (synchronous) program sessions that are sponsored or co-sponsored by the library.
- Program sessions with attendance of zero or one if they were intended for a group.

EXCLUDE

- Program sessions sponsored by other groups that use library facilities. For example, do not include a homeschooling group hosting a speaker in a meeting room without facilitation from library staff.
- Offsite outreach efforts that do not otherwise meet the definition of a program session. For example, do not include having a library card signup booth at a farmer's market.
- Activities delivered on a one-to-one basis, rather than to a group, such as one-to-one literacy tutoring, services to homebound, homework assistance, mentoring activities, etc.
- Passive or self-directed activities that do not occur at a scheduled time. For example, do not report "make and take" bags or coloring pages as a program. Report these self-directed activities on questions G115 to G123.
- Recorded presentations of program content. Report these on questions G109 to G114.
- Programming that is shared on the library's website or social media that is not sponsored or co-sponsored by the library. For example, do not include sharing a video from an author's website of him or her reading a book.

Tips for reporting programs and attendance.

- When reporting the number of programs count the total number of events. A story time held once a week for a year is counted as 52, not as one.
- When reporting attendees count total number of attendees regardless of the age. A children's program attended by 10 children and 10 adults is counted as 20, not as 10.
- Live, virtual programs are conducted via a Web conferencing or webinar platform during which a library staff member (or other party sponsored by the library) is presenting to or interacting with an audience in real-time. These are considered programs for survey purposes and should be added into programming counts as indicated below.
- Recordings of program content include video or audio recordings created by a library staff person (or other party sponsored by the library) and posted to a video or audio hosting platform for the audience to view or list to on-demand. Do not include promotional or marketing content. Recordings of program content are counted separately from live programs as indicated below.
- If a program is hybrid (i.e., in-person and virtual) then report it as in-person. Do not double count.
- WhoFi/Non-WhoFi - we prefill and lock data from WhoFi for libraries that use that service. If you did not use the WhoFi service fill out the non-WhoFi questions. The total number of WhoFi and non-WhoFi programs will equal the total number of programs offered in each category.

Content Recordings and Patron Directed Activities

Program Content Recordings

A program content recording is any recording of program content that cannot be viewed live as it unfolds (i.e., on-demand streaming). Only include program presentations posted during the reporting period. Regardless of the number of platforms on which a presentation is posted, count each unique presentation only once. Include program sessions hosted on Facebook Premiere that are not facilitated by a staff member.

The count of views of asynchronous program presentations for a period of THIRTY (30) days after the presentation was posted, even if that period extends beyond the survey reporting period (or fiscal year). For program presentations made available via Facebook, count unique 1-minute views of each video. For those made available via other platforms, count unique views of each video. For recorded program presentations that are recordings of live, virtual program sessions, exclude live attendance; live attendance should have already been counted on lines G18, G29, G55, G78, or G95.

If you do not provide a listed service you can leave it as a 0. If you provide a service but are unsure of how many times it was used, answer with an estimate, or N/A. Otherwise provide the number of times each service is used ANNUALLY. Do not count the number of items created, only count the number of times a service is used. Do not include anything provided as a part of a library sponsored, in-person, program. These counts should be accounted for in the programming counts listed above. For example, do not count coloring sheets used as part of a live, in-person, program as an indirect activity.

Section H - Library Buildings - Hours and Square Footage

Make sure to consider closures due to COVID-19 when calculating number of hours and weeks open. For example, if your library is normally open for 52 weeks, but was closed for 20 weeks and open for 32 weeks, due to COVID-19, report 32 on line H02.

Section H Part 2 - Branches and Bookmobiles

Enter information for each branch or bookmobile on separate lines. Click the "Add Group" button to report multiple branches or bookmobiles. Do not include information for your main library in this section - that is already covered by questions H01-H05.

Make sure to consider closures due to COVID-19 when calculating the answers for H07 and H08. For example, if your branch or bookmobile is normally open for 40 weeks, but was closed for 10 weeks and open for 30 weeks, due to COVID-19, report 30 on line H08.

If the Branch or Bookmobile name, address, or phone number has changed since last year, contact Scott Dermont at scott.dermont@iowa.gov for corrections.

NOTE: Libraries without branches should skip questions H06 to H11 and leave them blank.

The following questions were added in the FY20 survey to assess the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on library services. The impact extended into FY22, so we will continue with most of these questions this year. Answer Yes or No to the following questions if you know for sure that you provided the listed service or not. If you aren't sure, leave the question blank.

Comics and cookies: 'Drama' by Raina Telgemeier

Iowa City Public Library

Oct. 24, 2022 9:30 am

Each month, the Iowa City Public Library's will feature a comic or graphic novel for kids, suggest a sweet treat pairing, include a game or activity, and ask a couple discussion questions about the book.

In 'Drama' by Raina Telgemeier, group of kids work together to stage a middle-school play. As the group forms, they find their identities onstage and also navigate personal drama in the theater club.

Pairs well with: Pecan Praline Cookies. In the book, the play the kids put on is a Civil War-era romantic musical featuring an over-the-top Southern belle, so pair this read with a Southern delight like pecan praline cookies!

Discuss:

- Callie is passionate about set design and researches old movies to learn and gather inspiration from. What topics do you love learning about?
- Callie gets angry because Jesse ditches her at the dance, and Liz gets angry because Callie leaves her at the dance. Do you think Callie and Liz have a right to be mad? Why? How would you feel?

Do: Try a couple theater games! For these you'll need a few friends or family members (at least 4 people, and more is even better). Drama casts and theater groups use these games for team-building.

Human Knot

The goal is to untangle yourselves without letting go of each other's hands. Stand in a circle. Join hands with someone who is not standing next to you. Right hands should hold right hands, and left hands should hold left hands until arms are crisscrossing across the circle.

Inspect your knot. Communicate with each other to figure out how to untangle without anyone letting go of another person's hand. Twist around, climb over or under others' hands, bend, stretch, and maneuver, but don't let go!

It's OK if you need to briefly let go to readjust your grip. No one should be hurt in this game! When the knot is untangled, you'll end up in a circle all holding hands with those next to you (though some may be facing outside and some inside). Set a timer for an additional challenge!

Zip, Zap, Zop

The goal is to say the correct word in the pattern when it's your turn. Stand in a circle.

The first person claps as they say "zip," then points to and makes eye contact with anyone else in the circle. That person claps as they say "zap," then points to and makes eye contact with anyone else, who does the same with the word, "zop," then the next person starts the pattern over with "zip," etc.

See how fast you can go! If someone hesitates or says the wrong word, they are "out" and sits down where they are. Watch the speaker's eyes carefully!

Iowa City Public Library Board of Trustees

Meeting Agenda

October 27, 2022

DRAFT

Members Present: DJ Johnk, Claire Matthews, John Raeburn, Tom Rocklin, Hannah Shultz, Dan Stevenson.

Members Absent: Carol Kirsch, Robin Paetzold.

Staff Present: Elsworth Carman, Sam Helmick, Anne Mangano, Jen Miller, Brent Palmer, Jason Paulios, Angie Pilkington.

Guests Present: Abby Johnson, Redmond Jones, Alexa Starry.

Call Meeting to Order. Rocklin called the meeting to order at 5:00 PM. A quorum was present.

Approval of November 17, 2022 Board Meeting Agenda. Rocklin requested an amendment to the agenda and noted that Item 4A, Budget Discussion, required a vote.

Johnk entered at 5:01 PM.

Matthews made a motion to approve adding the Trustee vote on the FY24 Budget request. Raeburn seconded. Motion passed 6/0.

Public Discussion. None.

Items to be Discussed.

Budget Discussion. Carman discussed the Budget in Brief for FY24, which outlines the operational budget the Library is requesting from the City of Iowa City. Carman shared all City department directors were asked to submit a flat budget request, excluding personnel costs, and while the Library did not submit a flat budget due to inflation, attempts were made to limit increases to only essential lines. Library staff also submitted a list to City Finance of priority budget requests. The deadline for submitting the FY24 budget with the City did not line up perfectly for Board approval before submission but Carman shared that Finance is aware adjustments may be made after the Board meeting. Carman discussed the clock replacement and book return costs and noted they are the largest new budget requests for FY24. Matthews was surprised by the $30,000 expense of new clocks. Rocklin asked how many clocks would be purchased with that amount. Carman shared 58 clocks would be purchased, and the cost included the exterior antenna. If the request is not approved a workaround could be determined. Carman said the cost of book returns are less negotiable however as their current state is a public safety concern. If the $20,000 request for new book returns is denied Carman would like to see if any repairs could get the Library by for the short term. Shultz clarified the book returns were for the east side Hy-Vee location. Stevenson asked about rising personnel costs and wondered if the personnel request was high enough. Carman shared City Finance manages the budget calculation for personnel costs which includes cost of living. Stevenson asked what the cost of living increase will be, Mangano shared 2%. Carman shared the AFSCME contract is negotiated for a set number of years. Mangano said it is negotiated for five years and during the final year of the contract can be opened up and renegotiated. Rocklin commented that it was negotiated before the effects of inflation. Shultz asked who the AFSCME steward was and Mangano shared there has been a leadership change. Carman said that AFSCME leadership changed but is unsure if the Library-specific steward roles have changed. Stevenson asked if they expect to reopen the contract. Mangano said that was not part of the negotiation contract. Rocklin asked about the strategic plan consultant increase.

Helmick entered at 5:10 PM.

Carman shared the consultant line is for IT and strategic planning. Matthews noted personnel benefits are through the City of Iowa City and asked if there is an increase in costs for FY24. Carman shared there have been significant costs that have not yet affected staff. Raeburn asked about the longevity budget line. Carman shared after five years staff begin getting a bonus once a year. Every milestone anniversary staff meet increases the longevity payment. Raeburn noted the termination budget line was not requested this fiscal year but had been used in prior years. Carman and Miller said this was for unemployment or accrual payouts. Mangano clarified that staff salaries will increase 2.25% in FY24 and 2% the following year. Raeburn was surprised by the low request for equipment repair and maintenance supplies. Matthews noted the cost of sanitation supplies went up with increased need for sanitation during the pandemic. Matthews wondered if this trend would continue. Carman budgeted for the purchasing of masks in FY24 in case they are required.

Johnk made a motion to approve the FY24 budget request. Shultz seconded.

Carman shared as a semiautonomous department of the City, the Library Board has the authority to make budget decisions for the Library. Resources could be shifted throughout the year if the Library Board wished to do so. Matthews noted the hardware and software budget lines. Discussion clarified this budget was requested but not as a capital budget request. Carman shared that he and Miller aspire to make the budget documents more user friendly.

The Board of Trustees voted to approve the FY24 budget request. Motion passed 6/0.

Carman shared the next piece of the budget request is the CIP, or capital improvement project planning. The CIP request for carpet was previously requested but the CIP request for upgrades to meeting rooms is new. Carman shared we are trying to get ahead of preventative maintenance in case it takes time to be approved at a City level.

1st Quarter Financials and Statistics. Carman discussed first quarter expenditures for FY23 and felt the Library was in a normal and manageable part of the budget cycle. Shultz asked about the Finance committee and if it had met. Carman shared it had not.

Staff Reports.

Director's Report. Carman shared the Ped Mall playground is now open. Shade poles and sun shade are still going to be installed. Carman shared Noa Kim resigned from the Board and the vacancy will be filled as soon as possible. The vacancy will be in the next council packet. Standing Trustee applications will be revisited. Carman asked the Trustees to think about their own networks and invite others to apply. The vacancy should be filled by a person who identifies as female and is a five-year seat. Rocklin asked when applications are due. Carman shared they will be announcing it at the next meeting and applications will follow. Rocklin asked if there were any updates to Drag Queen Storytime. Carman shared the Iowa City Human Rights Commission wrote a statement in support of Storytime and it was well done. Carman got no community feedback about the event until the Iowa City Press Citizen article was published. Afterwards a handful of people commented but it wasn't anywhere near the volume he expected. Carman said it was tough experience for staff involved. Carman felt the Library has done a good job training staff about Intellectual Freedom and was happy that work had been done prior to the event. Carman shared the next Drag Queen Storytime will be in February around Valentine's Day and hopes it will be a community event for kids. Stevenson asked if it would be on a weekend again. Pilkington said it would be on a Saturday. Matthews hopes after the midterm elections it won't be an issue. Carman said that since the previous five Drag Queen Storytime programs at ICPL had not been problematic, he did not reach out to the police proactively about the event. Next time he will work with the Police Chief to create a plan before the program, though in this case, he believes a police presence may have escalated the situation. Rocklin said it sounds like it was handled very well and asked if any lessons were learned. Carman shared a City Attorney met with the Leadership Team to discuss first amendment rights and the Library Use Policy. The attorney helped clarify that staff need to focus on the behavior happening in the situation and not the ideology. Carman believes it is important to celebrate first amendment rights but that doesn't mean that patrons can abuse staff. The Attorney suggested that if any changes were made after this event, they would suggest revisiting Library policies about holding signs in the Library or videotaping other patrons. Carman feels enforcement of videotaping would be complex but worth the conversation. Rocklin agreed it would be hard to figure out. Raeburn asked if the protesters interrupted the program in a verbal and direct confrontational way. Carman said not in a dramatic way but they spoke at a normal speaking voice throughout the program. Carman said there was no yelling or chanting but there were louder voices in the lobby before he got on the scene that had been managed by staff. Johnk said he saw video of Pilkington and Carman standing between the protestors and patrons. Johnk felt that it stood very tall to see it handled so well and appreciated their actions. Carman shared he was struck by staff member Mari Redington, who remained poised and professional for the duration of the event, and said he appreciated the staff who jumped in to help.

Departmental Reports:

Children's Services. Pilkington asked Trustees to put Inservice Day on their calendars for December 9th. The morning session focuses on strategic planning with Carman and Becky Heil from the State Library. The session counts as Board continuing education credit.

Collection Services. Raeburn said the bibliography on Intellectual Freedom was well done and very useful. Matthews asked if Mangano had good turnout for the ILA conference presentation. Mangano said several Board members from other cities were in attendance and it was good to see Trustees engage with the topic. Mangano was then asked to do a webinar for the State Library. Matthews said a webinar will be very useful to rural libraries. Mangano discussed genre label changes and how reading the Intellectual Freedom manual impacted the labels. Johnk liked the explanation of label changes. Matthews believes changing the labels if done well isn't typically noticed. Matthew thought this was a good example of one of those moments and appreciated the thought that went into the seamless process.

IT. None.

Miscellaneous. Carman introduced Redmond Jones, Deputy City Manager, who attended the meeting. Redmond is the new liaison for the Library with the City of Iowa City.

President's Report. Rocklin shared a note from Carol Kirsch who apologized for not being there. Kirsch thanked ICPL for her attendance at ILA and thanked staff for leading presentations. At the November meeting Kirsch will appoint a director evaluation committee with three members. Kirsch encouraged Trustees to contact her before the November meeting if they wish to join. Kirsch also shared that Trustee Noa Kim resigned and Carman will initiate the process of accepting applications for the vacancy.

Announcements from Members. Johnk recognized Helmick as newly appointed ILA President.

Committee Reports. None.

Communications. Rocklin said the Press Citizen article was remarkable in its thoroughness. Stevenson appreciated the framing of the article identifying the protestors as the problem, not the reason they were protesting.

Consent Agenda. Johnk made a motion to approve the Consent Agenda. Matthews seconded. Motion passed 6/0.

Set Agenda Order for November Meeting. Rocklin discussed agenda topics for November including appointing a director evaluation committee, departmental reports, and a collection policy revision.

Adjournment. Rocklin adjourned the meeting at 5:45 PM.

Respectfully submitted,
Jen Miller
