Minutes of the Regular Meeting October 27, 2016

DRAFT

Members Present: Diane Baker, John Beasley (in at 5:10 pm) Janet Freeman, Thomas Martin, Robin Paetzold, Meredith Rich-Chappell, Jay Semel, Monique Washington.

Members Absent: Adam Ingersoll.

Staff Present: Maeve Clark, Susan Craig, Kara Logsden, Anne Mangano, Patty McCarthy, Elyse Miller, Brent Palmer (in at 5:09), Angela Pilkington.

Guests Present: None.

Call Meeting to Order. President Semel called the meeting to order at 5:00 p.m.

Public Discussion. None.

Approval of Minutes.

The minutes of the September 22, 2016 Library Board of Trustees meeting were reviewed. A motion to approve the Minutes was made by Freeman and seconded by Washington. Motion carried 7/0.

Items to be discussed.

Bookmobile Update. A couple of options for the exterior bookmobile wrap were presented to the Board. A motion to wrap the bookmobile in the blue option was made by Baker and seconded by Washington. Motion carried 8/0. A staff group is going to visit Skokie Public Library tomorrow; they have one main building, one bookmobile, use the same automation system we do, and have a comparable population.

FY18 Budget Process. The library's budget request is at the City. The next step will be when Susan meets on 11/3 with the City Manager and Finance department. The Finance Director said the City is waiting for the state rollback numbers to complete the budget. This has an impact on the amount of the City levy.

Policy #815: Internet Use. This is a regularly scheduled policy review. There was discussion about hotspots. Palmer explained they are small devices that provide standalone internet access. Semel asked about filters on the computers. Craig said we do not filter internet content but images may be limited if the secure and comfortable environment of the library is affected. Craig said this is a grey area. A motion to approve the policy as amended by staff was made by Martin and seconded by Rich-Chappell. Motion carried 8/0.

Staff Reports.

Director's Report. Craig talked about the change to the agenda format, recommended by the City Clerk, which combines and renames "New" and "Old Business" to "Items for Discussion/Action." The architects were here to help us with three projects, including revisioning and redesigning Meeting Room D, which will happen this year. The other two projects for next fiscal year, creating a more upper elementary age designated space in the Children's Room, and reconfiguring the Computer Lab to provide additional options for technology use and more flexibility. Craig said the Iowa City Book Festival was very successful. Events took place at ICPL, throughout the City, and in Coralville. Craig said it gets bigger and better every year and is proud we are part of it. Martin asked about the State Library budget. Craig said there was a cut this year and next year depends on the Legislature. Craig will let Board members know the date for the December Legislative Reception which will be held in Tiffin at the Springmier Library.

Departmental Reports:

Children's Services. No comments.

Collection Services. No comments.

IT Services. No comments.

Development Office. McCarthy said invitations to the Book Gala/Arts & Crafts Bazaar were mailed and Board members should have received them. Something new this year for the Book Gala: If you enjoy a meal before or after the Book Gala at the Pullman Diner and let them know you are attending, you will receive a 10% discount. Craig and McCarthy are strolling down memory lane, looking at photos in preparation for celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Friends Foundation.

Spotlight on the Collection. No comments.

Miscellaneous. No comments.

President's Report. No report.

Announcements from Members. Martin served Free Lunch at the Crisis Center and sat with some of the guests, one of whom was very complimentary of the Library and its staff. Washington was moved by the book, "Invisible Hawkeyes", about integration at the University of Iowa in the period 1930-1960.

Committee Reports.

Foundation Members. No report.

Communications.

Letter from Joan Nashelsky, University of Iowa Center for Human Rights.

Email from Eleanor Dilkes to Kellsie Pepponi.

Quarterly Financial Reports.

Freeman asked about counter sales. Craig said these are things like bags and t-shirts sold at the Help Desk. In response to a question by Freeman about Open Access/Access Plus/Enrich Iowa, Craig said this is the state funding received annually. The Legislature appropriates a set amount of money which is then divided between all the eligible libraries.

Quarterly Use Reports.

No questions.

Disbursements.

The MasterCard expenditures for September, 2016 were reviewed. A motion to approve the disbursements for September, 2016 was made by Washington and seconded by Rich-Chappell. Motion carried 8/0.

Set Agenda Order for November Meeting.

Collection Development policy.

Craig reminded Board members the meeting is November is the third Thursday of the month, November 17, 2016.

Adjournment. A motion to adjourn the meeting was made by Freeman and seconded by Rich-Chappell. Motion carried 8/0. President Semel closed the meeting at 6:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Elyse Miller

601: Collection Development PolicyProposal:

Recommend changes to update the policy.

Issues:

In 2014, 79.2% of Iowa City residents surveyed came to ICPL to check out an item from the collection. The collection is a core service; it is central to our mission in supporting learning, promoting literacy, and encouraging creativity. We receive generous support for the collection through our city and our Foundation. It takes up a significant amount of space in our building and our staff devote a great deal of time selecting and maintaining the collection. This policy is essential in guiding our collection development practices and outlining to the public how we make collection decisions.

Overall, staff are requesting minor revisions to the policy. For 601.12, we ask to replace the wording of a sentence to reflect our current practice of maintaining one plan for the majority of the collection with exceptions for specific projects. In the past, twelve librarians had very specific collection assignments ranging from philosophy to cooking to books on disc. We now have six librarians who have large selection assignments and everyone's approach to selecting is similar in practice.

Among staff, the main point of discussion was 601.31. For context, the language for this statement was adopted in March 2011 in response to legislation proposed in the 84th General Assembly of the Iowa Senate (Senate File 410, Amendment 3092) requiring libraries to "adopt a policy that addresses limiting access to electronic media, videos, or video game resources by a child under seventeen years of age." The amendment did not require libraries to limit access, only that we have a policy addressing it. We do not limit access to any materials regardless of age except in the case of equipment with a high replacement cost. At this time, the laptops are the only items that fit this category. We ask for parental permission because we do not want to cause undue hardship for our patrons when surprised by a bill for an expensive item checked out by their child without their knowledge. The Code of Iowa holds parents "liable for actual damages to person or property," which includes replacement fees accrued on a child's library account (Iowa Code 613.16).

This year, our discussion centered on whether this statement belonged in the Collection Development Policy or the Circulation and Library Card Policy (801). At first thought, this seems like a circulation policy as it explains who has access to what. However, the State Library of Iowa recommends libraries include statements outlining their stance on intellectual freedom in their collection policies. We do this by stating we "subscribe to the principals embodied in the Library Bill of Rights and its interpretations." We do not state that we adopt them outright as we veer from the ALA's tenets of intellectual freedom with our policy on circulating equipment. According to the Library Bill of Rights' interpretations, libraries should not limit access to any materials, regardless of price, to minors. It also considers requiring parental permission as a restriction to access. Since we ask for parental permission for circulating equipment, we believe this should be explicitly stated in the Collection Development Policy.

Staff recommend modifying 601.31 by removing the cost threshold for circulating equipment to make the statement fit the purpose of the Collection Development Policy. The actual price point of the equipment seems more appropriate for the Circulation and Library Card Policy, which focuses more on library card privileges and restrictions. We would like to refer patrons to the Circulation and Library Card Policy for more information.

Staff Recommendations:

- Refer to the Circulation and Library Card Policy (801)
- Edit 601.12 by replacing the sentence "Librarians maintain collection plans for developing individual components of the collection" to "Selectors maintain a collection plan for developing and maintaining the Library's collection."
- Edit 601.31 by removing the specific price point for the replacement value of circulating equipment as this will be included in the Circulation and Library Card Policy (to be reviewed next month) and specifying the age for patrons who may need permission from a parent/guardian to borrow circulating equipment.

Action Required:

Review and adopt as amended.

601. Collection Development Policy

See also related policies: ~~on~~ Circulation and Library Card Policy (801) and Internet Use (815)

601.1 Introduction

601.11 This policy exists to guide librarians selecting materials and to inform the public about the principles guiding collection development decisions. Collection development is the ongoing process of assessing materials available for purchase or licensing, and making decisions on their inclusion and on their retention. It also includes creation of and access to original content.

601.12 Responsibility for collection development lies with librarians who apply professional knowledge, experience, and this policy in making decisions as well as the catalogers who determine where an item is placed within the collection. ~~Librarians maintain collection plans for developing individual components of the collection.~~ Selectors maintain a collection plan for developing and maintaining the Library's collection. Ultimate responsibility for collection development lies with the Director.

601.2 Guidelines

601.21 Materials selected for the collection will meet current and long-term needs of Iowa City residents of all ages and abilities for information, education, culture, and recreation. The Library strives to offer the widest possible range of subjects and views in a variety of formats, treatments, and levels of difficulty, within the limits of cost and space and considering current holdings and demand.

601.22 Generally, collections are broad, current and popular, not archival or comprehensive.

601.23 Collection development will support priorities of the Library's strategic plan.

601.24 The Library subscribes to the principles embodied in the Library Bill of Rights and its interpretations, Freedom to Read, and Freedom to View statements adopted by the American Library Association.

601.25 Including materials in the collection does not constitute endorsement of their contents. The Library recognizes that any given item may offend some patrons, but, because the Library follows accepted principles of intellectual freedom, it will not remove specific titles solely because individuals or groups may find them objectionable.

601.26 The library welcomes suggestions and comments from the public. User suggestions for purchase will be evaluated in accordance with this policy and collection development plans.

601.3 Access to Materials

601.31 Access to Library materials will not be restricted based on age except in the case of select circulating equipment, ~~with replacement value over $250, which will~~ may require parent/guardian permission for checkout to ~~children~~ patrons under the age of 18 due to high replacement costs.

601.32 Specialized resources available in other local libraries will not be needlessly duplicated. The library adds curricular materials only when these also serve the general public, or meet specific needs for contracted services.

601.33 The library participates in programs designed to provide patrons access to materials not owned, such as interlibrary loan, reciprocal borrowing agreements, and access to Internet resources.

601.34 Small outreach collections are donated to agencies and institutions serving populations with limited Library access.

601.35 Materials selected for the collection may be physically owned by the Iowa City Public Library or may be accessed through the library's or a vendor's web site. If mutually beneficial, the Library may partner with other libraries to offer joint access to digital collections.

601.36 Remote electronic access to digital resources may be limited by licensing constraints.

601.4 Collection Maintenance

601.41 To ensure that the library's collection is up-to-date and relevant to the community's needs, the usefulness of materials previously added to the collection is reevaluated on a regular basis.

601.42 Materials will be withdrawn if they are out-of-date, badly worn, damaged, or no longer being used. Space, the cost of replacement, and the appearance of the collection are also factors. Locally significant materials may be retained. Withdrawn materials may be donated to outreach collections, other libraries, sold at a public sale, recycled, or discarded.

601.5 Gifts

601.51 The Library accepts gifts of materials with the understanding that the same guidelines of selection are applied to gifts as to materials acquired by purchase.

601.52 Gift items not used for the collection will be donated to outreach collections or the Friends Foundation, recycled, or discarded.

601.53 Gift items that become part of the collection will be evaluated for retention on the same basis as other items.

Adult Services Department Report

November 17, 2016 Meeting of the Iowa City Public Library Board of Trustees
Maeve Clark, Adult Services Coordinator

Classes

Attendance at classes at the library continues to increase. This past fiscal year attendance in classes grew from 276 learners in 2015 to 365 learners in 2016. Each class averaged eight students. We have expanded our classroom to outside the library. We began a partnership in which staff taught four classes at the Senior Center. We also received a request from Daughters of the American Revolution to provide training on which electronic resources to use to help preserve family archives and photographs and how to create virtual family histories.

Jen Eilers, Library Assistant III, contacted both the Shelter House and the Inside Out program to bring classes to people who struggle to get to the library and who need assistance in basic computer skills or creating or updating a resume. This fall Jen presented a program – Technology Classes - at the Iowa Library Association annual meeting. The session focused on methods and tools for making classes successful. She is scheduled to repeat the program for the Nebraska Library Commission in December via an online program called NCompass Live. NCompass Live programs are shared with a nationwide library community.

Iowa Library Association Annual Meeting

Three Adult Services staff attended ILA's annual meeting in Dubuque; Brian Visser, Teen Services Librarian, Jen Eilers, Library Assistant III, who also presented a program on teaching technology classes, and Maeve Clark. The annual conference provides an opportunity to hear keynote presentations from leaders in the field, for continuing education, visits with exhibitors and perhaps, most importantly, for our staff to network with other library staff from throughout the state to share ideas and concerns.

Programs

September and October were busy months with many programs related to Shakespeare's First Folio at the University of Iowa Main Library, University of Iowa International Writing Programs each Friday, the return of the Library Community Writing Center on Tuesdays in the Computer Lab, programming in support of the UCI Cyclo-cross World Cup races in Iowa City, the UNESCO City of Literature Iowa City Book Festival programs and several collaborative programs with the University of Iowa Obermann Center for Advanced Studies.

November is usually a slower month with not as many programs, however that may change with a very successful second year of the Witching Hour festival. The library hosted four very well attended Witching Hour festival programs, all free to the public. The library provided financial support to the festival and in return received publicity for the events as well as a number of passes to ticketed events to share with the public. November is also NaNoWriMo, National Novel Writing Month, and the library is offering rooms, including the Computer Lab, as spaces for nascent and established writers to craft their novels.

Feed the Monsters

Staff enjoyed dressing up the book returns as monsters for Halloween. We encouraged patrons to Feed the Monsters! This is one of the many things we do to create memories for people who come to the Library. One of our patrons commented, "Does ICPL ever do anything halfway? Thank you for going above and beyond in even the tiniest of ways. BEST. LIBRARY. EVER."

Enewsletter

Check It Out, the Library's online newsletter, is the newest addition to our lineup of Library communications. It is e-mailed to subscribers the third Thursday of every month. Check It Out serves as a reminder for upcoming programs and events and gives us the opportunity to share information with readers who might have missed things on our website. We regularly include comments we've heard from patrons, whether in person, online, or through social media, as a way to share the Library's effect on the community. This also lets the public know we're listening. Check It Out launched in February 2016 and currently has 239 subscribers.

Music on Wednesday

The Music on Wednesday series kicked off in September with the local group, Muckrockers. Music on Wednesday features music by local musicians over the noon hour in the Library. Crystal City performed in October and Preucil School of Music will perform in November. The series will begin again on February 8th with Kathy Maxey, Larry Mossman, and Peter Ronick.

Muckrockers September 2016

Bookmobile Update

The Bookmobile Work Group has been busy working on behind the scenes planning that will make our Innovative Integrated Library Software (ILS) (the system that supports materials purchase, classification and circulation, as well as the online catalog that helps us search for materials) support the Bookmobile. To help us learn how another Library uses the Innovative system for bookmobile services, five Library staff members traveled to Skokie Public Library on October 28. Skokie is similar to ICPL because they have a main branch, a bookmobile, and use Innovative as their ILS. Staff learned a lot about Skokie's library and bookmobile service and will benefit from the knowledge and wisdom Skokie's staff members shared. Skokie's new bookmobile is four months old, so it was also helpful to hear from their staff about how to prepare for the delivery of a new bookmobile.

Meeting with Antelope Lending Library

A meeting is scheduled for Thursday, November 10, with Cassi Elton from Antelope Lending Library. We are beginning discussions for the National Bookmobile Day celebration on April 12, 2017 and planning for summer 2017 complementary schedules. Plans for the National Bookmobile Day celebration include a party at Mercer Park with music, food trucks, craft activities, yoga, face-painting, and information about Summer 2017 schedules for both bookmobiles. Stay tuned for more information.

Development Office Report
 Prepared for the Board of Trustees
 Iowa City Public Library
 by Patty McCarthy, Director of Development
 November 17, 2016

See You on Sunday

All Library friends, and their families and friends, are welcome at Prairie Lights Books on Sunday, November 13, from 6:30-8 pm. The store will be open for the 23rd annual Book Gala to benefit ICPL.

Shoppers will have the undivided attention of the store's incredibly knowledgeable staff and be able to get advice on the best gift for everyone on their list. A portion of the evening's sales will be donated to the Library Friends Foundation.

As a special incentive to spend the evening downtown, our friends at Pullman Diner will offer a ten-percent discount to those who are there for a meal before or after the Book Gala and mention the Book Gala Library benefit to their server. Pullman Diner is next door to Prairie Lights Books, at 15 South Dubuque Street in Iowa City.

Giving Tuesday to Help ICPL

Show your appreciation for the Iowa City Public Library on Giving Tuesday with an online donation. Giving Tuesday is a newer celebration of the holiday spirit which encourages charitable contributions to nonprofit organizations. Giving Tuesday is the Tuesday after Thanksgiving—November 29th this year.

Giving Tuesday donations to the Iowa City Public Library Friends Foundation will benefit everyone by providing more to read, watch, listen to, learn from, and enjoy. Thank you for giving to the ICPL Friends Foundation on Giving Tuesday.

Arts & Crafts Bazaar on December 3rd

Complete your holiday shopping during the Library Friends Foundation's fifth annual Arts & Crafts Bazaar. Hours are 10 am-3 pm in Meeting Room A.

At the same time, Book End volunteers will offer a book sale in the hallway outside Meeting Room A, and there will be specials in the Book End on the second floor.

And, in the morning (10 am-Noon), parents will be able to shop while their children create a craft in Meeting Room D, led by two Library volunteers.

As you can see in the photo, a distinctive wood child's sled, soft and warm knit baby booties, baby sweater, scarves and mittens, a decoupage journal, and a beautiful quilt with a book theme, are among the unique treasures which will be sold at the Bazaar. Check out more items in the display case at ICPL.

If you are working on a project, you can bring your donation to the Help Desk with page 2 of the ICPL Arts and Crafts Bazaar donation form any time before December 1.

Friends Foundation Calendar

Board Meeting: Wednesday, November 30, 2016. 4 pm at ICPL.

Holiday cooking for dietary restrictions

By Melody Dworak, Librarian

What are the holidays without family, fun, and food? For many people with food allergies or other special dietary requirements, the food part of the equation brings more dread than delight. Hosts can be equally stressed out by not being able to serve everyone.

Enter the Iowa City Public Library's cookbook collection. We have hundreds of books about cooking and specialized sections with something for everyone.

Bakers can look to books like Gluten-Free & Vegan Pie by Jennifer Katzinger and The Allergen-Free Baker's Handbook by Cybele Pascal. Beyond baking, we have more than 100 books with gluten-free recipes, including Nourishing Meals by Alissa Segersten and Tom Malterre. This book offers 365 gluten-free whole foods recipes, covering dishes that can be doubled and served as sides as well as desserts with alternatives to refined sugars.

A paleo diet brings more restrictions than a gluten-free one. Gather by Haley Mason and Bill Staley offers recipes for paleo entertaining for each season. Their Thanksgiving recipes include an apple-veal stuffing with cranberries and chestnuts, and their Christmas feast features a winter pomegranate salad with fig balsamic vinaigrette. Picture perky red pomegranate seeds speckling a bed of greens, a perfect match for holiday décor. Hold the walnuts for the guests with tree nut allergies.

For guests whose concerns are more calorie-related than allergy-related, consider checking out Comfort Food by the editors at Cooking Light. You'll find a recipe for turkey tetrazzini with under 500 calories per serving, and a sweet potato casserole and pecan pie each for under 300 calories per serving. Bonus grub: use leftovers to build a turkey Reuben panini in under 30 minutes and for less than 300 calories.

On the vegetarian side of light, my go-to cookbook is Isa Chandra Moskowitz's Appetite for Reduction. Recipes fit for a fit feast include the ginger mashed sweet potatoes with apples (180 calories per serving) and the warm mushroom salad with cranberries (150 calories per serving). Pick up the book again for New Years for its hottie black-eyed peas and greens.

Throwing a party and want to impress with vegan appetizers? Pick up Thug Kitchen: Party Grub or Vegan Finger Foods by Celine Steen. The punchy and profane creators at Thug Kitchen provide recipes for the delicious looking quinoa-stuffed mushrooms and the mouth-watering roasted garlic pull-apart bread. On the sweet side, find recipes for cinnamon-glazed nuts and chocolate stout truffles in Steen's book.

The Iowa City Public Library has several vegetarian books focused solely on holiday cooking, including Vegan Holiday Kitchen by Nava Atlas and Vegan Holiday Cooking from Candle Café, the renowned New York restaurant beloved by vegetarian foodies.

In the book world, we like to believe we can find something for everyone. This is certainly true when it comes to finding delicious recipes that will accommodate whatever dietary restrictions pose a challenge to the host. Why agonize over the food, when there's fun to be had and family to cherish? Let ICPL help you serve your guests with confidence.

By Heidi Lauritzen, Switchboard Manager at the Iowa City Public Library

Author Debbie Shore says “a hand-made gift is a gift of time, of love and a little part of yourself.” Present-giving season is upon us, and these books will inspire your creativity now and year-round. Their gift ideas range from simple to complex; some projects could be finished in an afternoon while others need a bigger investment of time and materials. Each book has colorful illustrations and step-by-step instructions. You simply add the most important ingredient: your personal touch.

“Gifts in Jars: Homemade Cookie Mixes, Soup Mixes, Candles, Lotions, Teas, and More!” by Natalie Wise has more than fifty gift ideas to go in all types of jars: classic Mason jars, new and recycled jars. Each project has the tag instructions that should be attached to the jar. Along with the soup, cookie and granola mixes you would expect, there are recipes for bath salts and scrubs, terrariums and bug jars, and a sewing kit to name just a few of the fun ideas. The cupcake decorating kit with cupcake papers, sprinkles and cake toppers, and birthday candles would be a colorful and useful hostess gift.

Debbie Shore’s “Half Yard Gifts: Easy Sewing Projects Using Left-Over Pieces of Fabric” puts your fabric scraps to work in gifts for the whole family. Bags, pillows, a tablet case, tool apron, and a string of chicks are just a few of the ideas. For many of the projects, a change of fabric pattern changes the appeal from child to adult or whimsical to no-nonsense. The pyramid paperweight weighted with a handful of rice would be useful in an office, sewing room, or shop.

“100 Little Christmas Gifts to Make” published by Search Press is an encyclopedia of craft ideas. Some of the gifts are Christmas-specific, but many others are good for giving any time of the year. Projects are arranged by type: stitching, knitting, decoupage, paper crafts, sugarcraft and polymer clay, and jewelry making. Each new craft section begins with a “Know How” section of tips and guides.

“Baby Bliss: Adorable Gifts, Quilts, and Wearables for Wee Ones” by Kim Diehl and Pat Wys has standards such as receiving blankets, burp cloths and bibs. Other practical gifts are flannel strap covers for car seats, pacifier leashes, and decorated laundry bags to keep tiny socks from going astray. Prepare yourself for lots of colorful ribbons and rickrack.

Kids can make some of the gifts in “Cattastic Crafts: DIY Projects for Cats and Cat People” by Mariko Ishikawa. Cat toys as simple as balls of crumpled foil strung together on yarn and a catnip mouse made with an old sock are featured along with the more complex cat tower and mosaic kibble trays. If you know any compliant cats who like to dress up, there are kitty shirts, scarves, and hats of all kinds. The book is rounded out with cat-themed gifts for people.

These and more craft books are available at the Iowa City Public Library. Get creative and give!
