Minutes of the Regular Meeting February 26, 2015

DRAFT

Members Present: Diane Baker, Thomas Dean, Janet Freeman, David Hamilton, Thomas Martin, Robin Paetzold, Jay Semel.

Members Absent: Linzee McCray, Meredith Rich-Chappell.

Staff Present: Maeve Clark, Susan Craig, Kara Logsdon, Patty McCarthy, Elyse Miller.

Guests Present: Rev. Doyle Landry.

Call Meeting to Order. President Paetzold called the meeting to order at 5:01 pm.

Public Discussion. Rev. Landry expressed gratitude to Ms. Craig for her leadership and expressly for having Stefanie Bowers present to the Board at the January, 2015 meeting. Landry distributed information about the Iowa Commission on the Status of African-Americans and minutes from their December 5, 2014 meeting. Rev. Landry mentioned that May is National Mental Awareness month. He encouraged the Library to have a program about mental health in May.

Approval of Minutes.

The minutes of the January 22, 2015 Library Board of Trustees meeting were reviewed. A motion to approve the Minutes with the correction by Martin on the frequency of Iowa State Commission meetings from once a month to every other month was made by Baker and seconded by Freeman. Motion carried 7/0.

Unfinished Business.

Director Evaluation Process. In recent years the Evaluation Committee worked out its own process using different methods to evaluate the Director. There has not been a standard evaluation instrument. Craig said it is the Board's process and they determine the process. The Evaluation Committee typically has a member from the previous year to help with the process for the current year. Talking with library staff has been one method used since before we were in this building. Paetzold said the Evaluation Committee can decide on the format, or the Board as a whole can decide on the format. It was suggested the Committee, once appointed, can talk about the process and have the Board discuss at the next meeting. Semel feels the Evaluation Committee from last year should put together a document outlining their process for the Board to look at for next time. Craig said the process has always been orally based. Craig will draft the procedure we used last year for the Board to react to in March and the Evaluation Committee will recommend an evaluation process in April. Freeman would like other staff besides managers be included in the evaluation process. A motion to set the Evaluation Committee in March and for the Evaluation Committee to recommend the evaluation process in April was made by Baker and seconded by Martin. Motion carried 7/0.

Board Recruitment. There will be three vacancies on the Board; terms for McCray, Hamilton and Dean expire on June 30, 2015. These were posted February 23, 2015 by the City Clerk at Council meeting this week. Applications are due in April. Craig asked if the Board wished to use any of the methods discussed by Bowers when she presented last month. Craig said we can get a poster ready for the lobby. Word of mouth is another method, with Stefanie Bowers' help. Two of the new appointees would need to be men. The third can be either sex to keep gender equity. Semel suggested we write to community agencies to let them know about Board openings. Craig will check to see if we can get to the schools in some way. The vacancies will be posted in all our social media. Hamilton suggested we approach the minority member of City Council, and suggested others who might be approached. Paetzold asked if Hamilton would be willing to write a letter to the editor of the Press-Citizen to let them know about this. Hamilton feels the more proactive we are the more likely we are to get results. Board presented many good ideas and strategies to try. Board members should personally reach out to possible new board members, or to others who might help recruit a more diverse board. The application is available on the City website under Boards and Commissions, under vacancies.

New Business.

FY16 Calendar. The building calendar for the next fiscal year is set in February. The Hours of Service policy is attached for your information. Every February when the budget is pretty much set, we set the calendar for the year to comply with scheduling per the contract. There is a holiday in the summer; Craig proposes the library be open on July 3 with holiday staffing; July 4th is on a Saturday this year. A motion to accept the building calendar for FY16 as proposed was made by Dean and seconded by Hamilton. Motion carried 7/0.

Dean out at 5:39 pm.

Board Policy #700: Community Relations. This is a regularly scheduled policy review. Logsdon said it is nice to see how we have grown our community involvement and relationships. Having a specific policy for this purpose is both a guide and reminder for us to do so. A motion to approve the Community Relations policy incorporating staff suggestions was made by Baker and seconded by Freeman. Motion carried 6/0.

Board Policy #701: Public Relations. This is a regularly scheduled policy review. The public relations plan helps staff identify all of the different ways we will communicate what we do. A motion to approve the Public Relations policy as amended by staff was made by Martin and seconded by Semel. Motion carried 6/0.

Staff Reports.

Director's Report. We are in bargaining with AFSCME right now and there is a tentative agreement. Byers asked Craig to let the Board know this is the reason she is not at the Board meeting. It was decided at the last contract negotiation the contract would only be open for issues related to finances.

Advertising for the Children's Services Coordinator closes tomorrow. Pasicznyuk's husband has been in Colorado since September; Pasicznyuk remained in Iowa with their high school senior; her last day is May 21, 2015. Just a reminder we are collaborating with the City of Literature on One Book Two Book festival next weekend. There will be many activities all weekend long, all at the Sheraton Hotel. All the events and programs are free and everyone is encouraged to stop by for the festival. The UI Lecture Committee is trying to get JK Rowling to come for One Book, Two Book in 2016 and we will be helping with this.

State Accreditation Application. Craig noted the level at which a library is accredited is based on these criteria. Paetzold wondered why we do not have a policy for emergencies. Craig said we have procedures for emergencies. This provides flexibility when changes need to be made to the procedures and procedures do not require Board action. She said smaller libraries often have these as policies. Martin asked about the Board education item. Craig explained Inservice Day and other opportunities offered to the Board to attend other meetings and conferences are considered here. Paetzold asked about replacement rate and how we compare with other libraries of our size. Craig said we often exceed these because the numbers are minimums for accreditation.

Departmental Reports:

Children's Services. Family Fun(d) night was a lot of fun. However, not a hugely successful fundraiser and it was a lot of work. We've had programs like this before for teens and others after the building closes. As we discuss the future of the event it might just turn into a program.

Collection Services. No comments.

IT. Paetzold asked if there are other ICN locations in Iowa City if we discontinued its use in Room D. McCarthy said Kirkwood is the only location now. Craig said the Courthouse has one.

Development Office Report. The Golf fundraiser is set for June 26, 2015. There is a Book End book sale this weekend and the Foundation Board meets April 1.

Spotlight on the Collection. Paetzold appreciated the video of alternatives to Fifty Shades of Grey.

Miscellaneous. No comments.

President's Report. Paetzold thanked Semel and Baker for agreeing to sit on the Foundation Board. McCray, Rich-Chappell, and Hamilton have agreed to participate on the Nominating Committee. Paetzold will send an email. The purpose of this committee is to put together a slate of officers for the next year.

Announcements from Members. Martin reminded the group that March 18 is ILA Legislative Day. The next day is Martin's last meeting as a Commissioner.

Committee Reports.

Foundation Members. None.

Communications. None.

Disbursements.

The MasterCard expenditures for January, 2015 were reviewed. A motion to approve the disbursements for January, 2015 was made by Martin and seconded by Freeman. Motion carried 6/0.

Set Agenda Order for March Meeting.

Policy.

Evaluation discussion.

Nominating committee.

Adjournment. A motion to adjourn the meeting was made by Freeman and seconded by Martin. Motion carried 6/0. President Paetzold closed the meeting at 6:02 pm.

Respectfully submitted,

Policy Making and Policy Review

This is a regular review of the board policy that establishes the process of policy development and review.

Issues

The Library Board has authority beyond that of a typical City board or commission, and often that authority is expressed in the form of policies. Library Board policy action take the place of City Council approval for most other units of City government. For instance, the Board adopts a policy that sets overdue fees, Parks & Recreation fees are approved by the City Council. It is important that there be a clear and transparent process for the development and review of policies.

Policies are reviewed on a three year cycle so that every board member serving a full six-year term looks at policies twice. Occasionally when a new policy is adopted or issues arise policies are reviewed more frequently.

Staff recommendation

During a previous policy review language was added to require policies be available on the website. The website is now the typical source to find policy information, and printed material previously kept at the Information Desk is no longer kept there. Staff recommend removing the phrase, "including on the website."

Action required by the Board

Adopt the policy as revised.

Adult Services Department Report

March 26, 2015 Meeting of the ICPL Library Board of Trustees
Maeve Clark, Adult Services Coordinator

Teen Homework Help

The library has worked with Envision Tutoring, a University of Iowa student-run tutoring group, to provide free weekly drop-in tutoring sessions in all subjects for students in grades 7 through 12 for the past two years. Recently, Envision has had changes in leadership and they are no longer able to recruit tutors. Not wanting to lose tutoring in the Teen Center, the Library now recruits the volunteers and helps manage the scheduling of students and tutors. The tutors are volunteers—both university students and former educators—qualified to teach all subjects. Each tutor undergoes a background check and training to ensure students get the most benefit from the sessions. Tutoring sessions are confidential. Tutoring takes place within the Koza Family Teen Center on the Library's second floor. Students sign up for a session online at <http://sites.google.com/site/tutorschedulingicpl/>.

For Kids and By Kids, Songs from Iowa Rock City

University of Iowa Professor, Kembrew McLeod, and his wife, Lynne Nugent, managing editor of The Iowa Review, have produced a CD, For Kids and By Kids, Songs from Iowa Rock City, Volume One. The CD was an outgrowth of a concert and dance party for children held at the Library during the 2014 Mission Creek Music Festival. After watching families delight in local performers – and seeing some of those same musicians perform for older audiences – the two decided that a CD would allow Iowa City families to enjoy local created music whenever they wanted. The first-ever Mission Creek concert for kids was organized by McLeod and Nugent because they wanted the spirit of the annual festival to extend to parents and young children, too. Jason Paulios, Senior Librarian, worked with them and the songs were available to download as part of the Local Music Project beginning Tuesday, March 24.

A free CD release party is scheduled for Saturday, March 28 at 3 p.m. at The Englert Theatre. 1,000 copies of For Kids and By Kids will be shared with local families. Those not able to attend the concert can download or stream the music at music.icpl.org. The CD will also be available in limited quantities after the release party at the Englert box office, White Rabbit, and the Library's Children's Room. The Library also helped in the financial support of the CD. Make sure you take a listen...whether you have kids or not.

Kid Kits

And speaking of kids, the Children's Department has greatly assisted Adult Services and the adults and children who use the public Internet computers by creating Kid Kits. A Kid Kit can be borrowed from the Info Page station by a parent or a guardian using a computer. The kits contain a variety of games and coloring materials and other fun items to help pass the time more quickly for a child or children. We recently had two children come to the Info Desk and ask if they could borrow the toys. They had used the kits before and really liked them. And even better they each made us pictures.

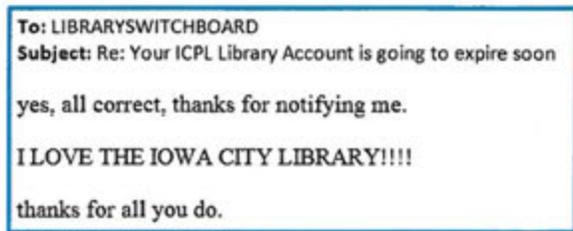

I went to the dentist this week, which may not seem remarkable but represented a little microcosm of how the the Library's public relations efforts reach our patrons. The hygienist mentioned she enjoys the Library's program on 800 KXIC and enjoyed hearing about the Library's Teen Center. Then the dentist came in and said, "I heard you on the radio a couple months ago and there was a book you were talking about with "sunshine" in the title. I think my wife's book group should read that book." I was perplexed, so found my smart phone, showed him the Library's blog, then found the blog post for the book he was looking for. I talked about a couple other books and encouraged him to show his wife the Library's blog. I often hear from Library staff who have similar conversations based on radio programs, newspaper articles, blog entries, and social media posts. The box above shows a fun conversation we had with a patron on our Instagram site.

We are thinking about summer and strategies to ensure children have Library Cards and are ready for summer reading and riding the Summer Library Bus. We eMailed all ICCSD elementary teacher-librarians to discuss how we can work together to assure students have Library Cards. Some schools are distributing Library Card applications they will collect and send to the Library. We'll create cards accounts and mail the Library Card to the student's home. Other schools are planning dates when Library staff can travel to the school, either during the day or for a family-centered event, to issue Library Cards. Other schools are distributing Library information at parent-teacher conference days and kindergarten roundups. We want to work with each school in whatever way that works best to support efforts to help students get a Library Card.

Recently I had a meeting with staff from Iowa City Transit; we are planning for joint outreach efforts to promote the Summer Library Bus. Transit has an outreach effort called "Ride Right" that lets students know about safety and rules related to using the bus. Our tentative plan is to take a bus to school family nights we routinely attend and have Library Card sign-up on the bus. Transit staff can talk about riding the bus safely, and we can help students and their families get Library Cards.

As I mentioned in our January report, in December we began sending eMail notices to patrons in the service area who have eMails listed in their Library Card account, letting them know their account is set to expire in the next seven days. Patrons are invited to call, eMail or stop by to update account information. Switchboard staff handles calls and eMails, while Help Desk staff assists patrons in person. This project has been a great success and patrons appreciate the notice. The box to the right shows one of the nice notes we received from a patron in response to the eMail.

Annually in March we do a purge of inactive Library Accounts to keep our database up-to-date. Accounts are purged when they are inactive for three years and owe less than $20 or inactive for seven years and owe $21 to $200. We do not purge accounts where fines or billed items exceeds $200. This year, 7,665 accounts were purged from the system. Of those, 4,395 had no fines or billed items. 2,853 inactive accounts purged owed less than $20. This represented $13,779 of fines and billed items removed from the system. 417 inactive accounts purged owed between $21 and $200. This represented $16,062 of fines and billed items removed from the system. After the purge, we have 63,020 active Library Accounts.

Mark the End of the Civil War at the Iowa City Public Library
Anne Mangano, Collection Services Coordinator, Iowa City Public Library

This April marks the 150th anniversary of the end of the Civil War. After four years of war with more than 620,000 Americans dead, the ship, according to Walt Whitman, was finally “anchor’d safe and sound.” But there was a great deal of work to do to begin healing a nation fragmented and strained in many different ways. A task even more daunting because this same April also signifies another 150th anniversary: the assassination of President Lincoln. To help you explore the Civil War, check out some of these new books from the Iowa City Public Library.

Interested in the economic impact? To gain an understanding of how crucial slavery was to boosting the economic growth of the United States and how difficult it was to disentangle the country from it, take a look at Edward E. Baptist’s “The Half Has Never Been Told.” Although it covers the pre-Civil War era, Baptist argues that slavery made America a very rich nation from the plantations of the South to the textile mills of the North. “Empire of Cotton” by Sven Beckert also explores the impact of cotton’s importance to the antebellum economy.

With more than three million serving in the war, another issue facing the nation was the large number of soldiers returning home. Brian Matthew Jordan’s “Marching Home” discusses the psychological toll the war had on Union veterans and the problems they confronted reintegrating into society. Jordan uses the letters, diaries, essays, and medical reports of veterans to show that in spite of facing severe injuries, alcoholism, mental illness, and small pensions, Civil War soldiers worked to make sure their sacrifice was not forgotten by a nation moving into the Gilded Age. For more on the social and psychological impacts of the Civil War, check out James M. McPherson’s “The War that Forged a Nation: Why the Civil War Still Matters.”

Losing the president also sent shock waves in establishing a way forward. Two new books provide firsthand accounts of Abraham Lincoln’s assassination. “Backstage at the Lincoln Assassination” by Thomas A. Bogar tells the story of the stage hands and actors who witnessed the assassination and the beginning hours of the investigation. “President Lincoln Assassinated” uses eighty historical documents to tell the story of the assassination, manhunt, and trial, as well as the nation’s response to these events. Books on the impact of Lincoln on our national identity include Martha Hodes’ “Mourning Lincoln” and Richard Wightman Fox’s “Lincoln’s Body.”

Want more? Check out the Iowa City Public Library’s streaming video site at video.icpl.org to find a number of Civil War programs held in 2013 to honor the 150th anniversary. Programs include “Women in the Civil War,” “Civil War poetry of Walt Whitman” and “Making Art out of Mass Death.” Through these great programs, as well as history books, documentaries, and films, find yourself immersed in the Civil War at the Iowa City Public Library.

By Candice Smith, Adult Services Librarian, Iowa City Public Library

Spring is just a few weeks away. Yes, there might still be snow on the ground, but it's not too early to start thinking about the green grass and soil underneath, and the gardens that will soon begin to bloom. The Iowa City Public Library has a large collection of gardening books to help you get started — it doesn't matter if you're just beginning to dabble in the dirt, or if your thumbs are as green as they get, we'll have a book that suits your needs or gives you inspiration.

Are you just a garden seedling? Check out a book like "Rodale's Basic Organic Gardening; Midwest Gardener's Handbook: Your Complete Guide;" or "Beginner's Illustrated Guide to Gardening" to help you figure out what you need and how to get started. Also look for some books that contain lots of advice to help answer and questions that might crop up, such as "Deep-Rooted Wisdom: Stories and Skills from Generations of Gardeners;" "Coffee for Roses: and 70 Other Misleading Myths About Backyard Gardening;" and "Everyday Garden Solutions: Expert Advice From the National Gardening Association."

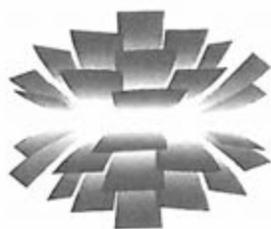

If your garden skills have already taken root, you might want to look at some books that cover more specific topics. Foodies should consider titles like "The Tao of Vegetable Gardening: Cultivating Tomatoes, Greens, Peas, Beans, Squash, Joy, and Serenity;" "Herb Gardening from the Ground Up;" and "Groundbreaking Food Gardens: 73 Plans That Will Change the Way You Grow Your Garden."

If gardening really brings out your artistic or creative side, check out "Cultivating Your Garden Style: Inspired Ideas and Practical Advice to Unleash Your Garden Personality;" "Gardens In Detail: 100 Contemporary Designs;" "Rustic Garden Projects: Step-by-Step Backyard Décor...;" and "Designing and Planting a Woodland Garden."

Iowa City is lucky to have a strong gardening community; we see small-scale and urban gardeners at our Farmers Markets, we have community plots that you can be part of, the Recreation Center has a Discovery Garden and the pedestrian mall has the Children's Garden, and there are several local organizations that are dedicated to spreading garden love. If that combination of community and gardening appeals to you, look for books like "Citizen Farmers: The Biodynamic Way to Grow Healthy Food, Build Thriving Communities, and Give Back to the Earth;" "Start a Community Food Garden: the Essential Handbook;" and "The Good Food Revolution: Growing Healthy Food, People, and Communities."

Of course, you don't have to be a gardener to enjoy gardens — maybe you simply want to look at and enjoy the fruits of other peoples' labors. No problem! Take a little break from our snow-covered grounds and look for books like "The English Country House Garden;" "Sissinghurst: Vita Sackville-West and the Creation of a Garden;" "Japanese Zen Gardens;" and "The Gardener of Versailles: My Life in the World's Grandest Garden." Up for a road trip? Check out "Gardening with Perennials: Lessons From Chicago's Lurie Garden" and then go for a visit.

No matter where your gardening interest lie, the Library has you covered!

Dear Ms. Rowling,

In the heart of the American Midwest, among rolling hills of corn and soybeans, there lies a small city that is unique—a City of Literature. Iowa City, Iowa was named a City of Literature in 2008, becoming the third city in the world to earn the designation, after your home of Edinburgh, Scotland and Melbourne, Australia. We like to feel that we are a “sister city” to the home of one of our favorite authors—you!

The people of Iowa City are passionate about reading and writing. Home to the University of Iowa, Iowa City has promoted creative writing for over 80 years through the Iowa Writers’ Workshop, known for its award-winning faculty and alumni. Each year, the City of Literature and the Iowa City Public Library hosts the Iowa City Book Festival, as well as a children’s book festival, One Book Two Book: A Celebration of Children’s Literature in the City of Literature. We even have book quotes and illustrations embedded in our sidewalks throughout our downtown area, as part of our public art.

Last year, the Iowa City Public Library held a March Madness book competition, our literary equivalent to the basketball tournament brackets. The children’s book character winner was Harry Potter—by an overwhelming majority of votes! Adults and children alike were passionate about their love for the boy who lived. In this City of Literature, Harry Potter is our hero.

If Iowa City could make a collective wish come true right now, we would wish to meet you, the author of our favorite literary character. Would you consider coming to Iowa City? It would be such an honor to host you here!

Thank you for your consideration.

University of Iowa lecture committee looks to lure Rowling to campus

Hopes letter-writing campaign will leave renowned author spellbound

Francie Williamson, The Gazette

MARCH 3, 2015 | 10:26 AM

IOWA CITY — Members of the University of Iowa Lecture Committee are hoping the state's residents can help conjure one of the world's most famous authors.

Nathaniel Richmond, a Bowling Green, Ky. native who serves as the group's chair, said he came up with the idea of inviting J.K. Rowling to campus in Spring 2016.

"I actually thought it was a terrible idea at first, because when you look into this, she doesn't accept speaking engagements officially," said Richmond, a fourth-year graduate student studying applied math. "I still mentioned it to the committee, and the committee as a whole was excited about it."

Committee members brainstormed how they could convince Rowling that she should head to Iowa City, Richmond said. They decided to ask Iowans to write letters thanking Rowling for her work, and personally appeal for her to appear.

"We thought we are certainly not alone in that we would enjoy having her come speak. We thought we needed to come up with a way to set ourselves apart,"

David Dix, 11, of Iowa City begins to fill out a letter to "Harry Potter" author JK Rowling at the Iowa City Public Library on Saturday, Feb. 28, 2015. The committee so far has partnered with entities such as the Iowa City Public Library, University of Iowa Honors College and Iowa City School District. Richmond said he wants people from across the state to get involved. There is a short time frame, though. Letters are due by March 13.

Richmond said they wanted to keep a tight time frame on the campaign so apathy would not set in.

"If we made it due by end of school year, it loses that sense of excitement and sense of urgency," Richmond said.

Richmond said the committee decided to time the invite to Spring 2016 for a number of reasons. For one, it would take time to figure out the logistics. Also, a number of events — such as the opening of the new University of Iowa Children's Hospital — are occurring in that time frame, and the committee would like Rowling's appearance to be tied to them.

"Her visit would mean a lot to community and would definitely be our biggest speaker for the year," Richmond said. "It probably would be in the basketball stadium, and maybe even the football stadium."

Richmond said the committee would offer to make a donation to Rowling's charity, Lumos, in exchange for her appearance. It likely would be upward of $50,000, he said.

Richmond also said the committee has been trying to get in touch with someone connected to Rowling in order to deliver the letters once they are compiled. He doesn't want them to just end up in "some mail room somewhere," he said. One idea has been to partner with Iowa City's City of Literature organization, as Edinburgh, Scotland, where Rowling lives, also is a UNESCO City of Literature.

"The worst case scenario is she doesn't come, but either way it's a good project," Richmond said of the letter writing campaign. "Either way we have shown our appreciation."

Letters can be emailed to lecture-committee@uiowa.edu, dropped off in room 145 of the Iowa Memorial Union on the University of Iowa campus, or mailed to:
