

ORTER.

IOWA.

IL 23, 1832.

MEETING.

Aspects in the last... democratic audience... at last broken, becoming gratified...

at last broken, becoming gratified... Mr. Preston... the Rock River—a medium sized boat in the Upper Mississippi trade.

At one o'clock, by universal request, the boat started on an excursion up the river. Elderly citizens with their daughters...

That the Iowa is navigable for steamboats of a medium draught for many miles can no longer be doubted. We understand that the Rock river entered the Iowa from the Mississippi early on the evening before she visited our city...

ARRIVAL OF A STEAMBOAT.

Thursday last, at ten o'clock in the morning, the cry of Steamboat in the Iowa—all hands on deck—was raised by the attention of the workmen on the top of the capitol. This, with the hoarse response of the steamer herself with her voice of deep thunder, aroused the whole population...

When the boat arrived at the landing, a large concourse of citizens had assembled, who welcomed her with three enthusiastic cheers, which were answered by as many stately and graceful bows from the captain upon the upper deck. She proved to be the Rock River—a medium sized boat in the Upper Mississippi trade.

That the Iowa is navigable for steamboats of a medium draught for many miles can no longer be doubted. We understand that the Rock river entered the Iowa from the Mississippi early on the evening before she visited our city...

precluded a column with coal matter.

Democrat Geo. Maot has been elected Louis by a less, the whole date. The Charles, 11 an independent by many of

The S ed out an ext for his lucubrations there is fact alone not correctly by greatest pro brilliant admision. When shape, from t thy of notice lic shall be ad

TRAGEDY

The perfor ful chronicler tended with motions. Since been the abidness, produced tragical scene nate actors in tucn to us all. —John P. Ba Ross. We ha into the parties nate rencontre which led to it, facts to the pub marks on reflect Shortly afterward upon Mr. Bradstreet assured him that he urely misinformed to have been made with which Mr. himself satisfied.

Mr. Bradstreet's r down street met wi attempted to dissa the difficulty farther has shown, without In the evening, u pressing down Main house, he was met ptaused him with a said, "Now, Mr. B to fight you." Mr. don't want to fight y used on his way. M struck him with his c storted upon him, an then commenced betu idence before the Jur that Mr. Ross discha Mr. Bradstreet was an one of which was cha and which, it is said, vious to the occurrence between himself and Ross was armed with ing pistol, all loaded, charged in quick succ taking effect, woundi slightly in the head, n and in the Iowa. A both his pistols, wren the breast with two ba tely, and slightly in o ed, doubling, at one d pistol, containing the Bradstreet survived his en hours. Mr. Ross his recovery is rarely