703.1

The Library's video stream shall be referred to as The Library Channel, and can be found at icpl.org/video. The purpose of The Library Channel is to extend library programs to a wider audience, to inform the community about Library services, to promote reading and Library use, to disseminate the visual history of the community or local history; and to make Library sponsored meetings and events more accessible. The Library Channel is hosted through a third party and may be subject to that party's community guidelines and policies.

703.2

The Library subscribes to principles embodied in the Library Bill of Rights and its interpretations, Freedom to Read, and Freedom to View statements adopted by the American Library Association. Any decision to remove or substantively alter Library Channel content is to be made by the departmental Coordinator responsible for the video's creation. Original content development lies with library workers who apply professional knowledge, experience, and related policies in making decisions.

703.3

The inclusion of content on The Library Channel does not constitute endorsement. The Library recognizes that content may offend patrons, but, because the Library follows accepted principles of intellectual freedom, it will not be removed solely in response to objections or challenges by individuals or groups.

703.4

All meetings or functions of the Library's Board of Trustees and its support groups have full access to The Library Channel as needed, and their use may include advocacy on behalf of the library.

703.5

Copyrighted materials and performances will be streamed in accordance with Board Policy 814.

703.6

Library programs may appear on The Library Channel, Library website, the internet, and other media.

703.7

This policy shall be administered by the Library Director or designee, who is authorized to adopt rules to implement it.
